VIII. Certain observations on the international application

The following observations on the clarity of the claims, description, and drawings or on the question whether the claims are fully supported by the description, are made:

[Object of International Preliminary Search for Claims 1-19]

The only dye which has been specifically confirmed by the specification to be "a magenta dye having an oxidation potential higher than 1.0 V (vs. SCE) and having a maximum absorption in a spectral region of 500-580 nm" is a magenta dye for which in the general formula (1) described in claim 6, A is benzothiazole, t-butyl, or cyano group-bonded pyrazole ring and G is an amino group. No specific disclosure or proof is provided for other magenta dyes.

Therefore, the inks for ink jet recording which use a magenta dye other than specifically disclosed in the specification cannot be considered as sufficiently supported by the specification, and an international preliminary search relating to novelty, inventive step, or industrial applicability thereof cannot be conducted.

For this reason, the only object of the international preliminary search was the ink for inkjet recording using the magenta dye described in the claims for which A is benzothiazole, t-butyl, or cyano group-bonded pyrazole ring and G is an amino group.
